

ANZALS Postgraduate Research Workshop, 2017

½ day workshop

Title: Research students and mentors working together to develop leisure

On Monday 4th December ANZALS will be holding a ½ day workshop.
1.00pm – 5.00pm

The aim of the workshop is to provide postgraduate research students with a mentor to comment and work on an aspect of their research either a candidature proposal, portion of a chapter, or a publication draft.

Workshop activities

1. Introduction and networking session

Getting to know all the students that are attending the workshop, through fun icebreaker activities. Where they are from, explaining their topics and the type of research that they are undertaking.

2. Mentor writing session 1.30-3.30

You will be required to send in a piece of writing that is around 5,000-6,000 words. This could be for a publication, a chapter for your thesis or a candidature proposal. We will send this onto a mentor to review for the workshop. All pieces of work need to be submitted two weeks prior to the workshop.

This session will be divided into four sections.

1. Student and mentor discuss students work – 1 hour;
2. Students will have some time with the notes and their thoughts about their work, they can start to make some changes or think further about comments that were made – ½ hour;
3. Mentor will rejoin the students and help with any further questions that they may have about their work- 20 mins;
4. Have a class discussion with mentors regarding the work that they have completed.

3. Discussions with an Editor

Tess Kay was an editor for the Leisure Studies journal. She will discuss her perspective of publishing and what they are looking for in an article.

Managing the logistics of submitting a journal, these can be very different and confusing.

Mentors can also contribute to this discussion

4. Grant Writing

Once students have completed their research they will need to understand the process of grant writing. This session will assist students with repositioning their research into a grant proposal.
