

LEISURE CONNEXIONS: 2nd ANZALS Conference, February, 1995 Lincoln University, Canterbury, New Zealand

Proceedings edited by Clare Simpson and Bob Gidlow, Dept Parks, Recreation and Tourism, Lincoln University . OUT OF PRINT

Research Presentations – Connections Between Disciplines

- The connexions of scholarship (keynote address) - Elery Hamilton-Smith
- Tourism and leisure concepts and theory: the new, the novel, the unfamiliar and the sociology of leisure - Michael Labone
- Role of personality in understanding vacation choice - Robyn McGuiggan, Phil Emerson , Stan Glaser
- Conceptualising tourism and leisure - Kevin Moore
- Tourism Research: crossing the Tasman, bridging the disciplines - Douglas G. Pearce

Leisure Patterns

- A study of factors underlying participation across the lifecycle in sporting activities - Alistair J. Boag and Graham Cuskelly
- Women, sport and the media: an historical perspective on sports coverage in the Sydney Morning Herald, 1890-1990 - Peter Brown
- The male leisure repertoire, before and after the transition to mid-life - John Dodd
- Constraints on physical recreation: are they homogenous? - Susan Hammerich
- Unemployment and leisure: compatible or not? - Francis Lobo
- 'Moving through the years': what motivates older New Zealanders to Take part in physical activity programs and to continue their involvement? - Diana O'Neill
- The measure of intrapersonal, interpersonal, and structural constraints on leisure: applications to older adults and people with disabilities - Lesley Raymore
- Understanding Gender differences in the usage of Victoria's surf beaches - John Tower

Outdoor Recreation Patterns

- Mountain biking, time deepening and substitutability - Chrys Horn, Patrick Devlin, David Simmons
- Motivations, ecological awareness and general profile characteristics of jet skiers in the Canterbury region - Broniek Kazmierow

Women and Leisure

- Towards a theory of leisure and pleasure: new perspectives on women's lived experience in midlife - Myra Betschild
- Older women speak out - community theatre as action research - Josephine Burden

- The Perceived ownership of recreational space: implications for participation of adolescent women - Kandy James
- The essential female adventurer - Jackie Kiewa
- Constraints and opportunities: women's involvement in adventure recreation - Donna E. Little and Norma McIntyre
- Memories give meanings to women's leisure - Coralie McCormack
- Construction and expendability of married women's leisure - Shona Thompson
- Young women's leisure: conformity or resistance to ideological structures? - Valerie Warren

Leisure and Tourism Research/methods

- An Australian Leisure Research Agenda - Rob Lynch, Peter Brown and Mary Lynne Koloff
- Sustainable community: tourism in the Shire of Omeo - Jim Macbeth

Cultural perspectives of tourism, leisure, sport and the arts

- The adaptive qualities of leisure: a cross- cultural survey - Garry Chick
- Expressions of Pakeha culture - Penny Eames
- Researching the connection between sport and ethnicity in Australia - Rob Lynch, Tracy Taylor, Kristine Toohey, Jock Collins
- Clothes maketh the man! But what 'man'? - Ray Hibbens
- The uses of soccer by Serbian Australians in the expression of cultural identity - Nicholas Procter & Rob Lynch
- Swimming, surfing, and the horse that came out of the tide: some Maori leisure activities in historical perspective - Ailsa Smith
- Ritual reality? Indigenous participation and its role in cultural sustainability and authenticity in a tourism product - Bernadine Walsh

Historical perspectives on leisure, tourism and sport

- Drinking, gambling and rational recreation in Colonial Australia - Carmel Foley
- 'Nothing is better for dinner than a pint of good champagne': the 'gentleman' amateur and sports training in the second half of the nineteenth century - Peter G. Mewett
- Recreation, racing and rambling: women's cycling in the late-nineteenth century New Zealand - Clare Simpson

Leisure, work and families

- Family life and privacy at a crowded campsite: a report of field-work in Australia - Toshio Sakamoto
- The effects of work family conflict - John Yardley

Curriculum

- Conceptual frameworks for the teaching of leisure studies: New Zealand and Australian perspectives - Grant Cushman and A. J. Veal
- Assessing the demise of school physical education with deregulation - Jenny Ross, Jill Hargreaves and Vicky Cowley

Leisure practice

- Beyond efficiency: reconceptualising the theoretical domains in customer service quality for leisure providers - James Absher, Gary Howat, Gary Crilley and Ian Milne
- Exploring the leisure management paradox - Sue Colyer
- Beyond Efficiency: customer service quality in leisure centre management - Gary Howat, James Absher, Gary Crilley and Ian Milne
- The assessment and refinement of the SERVQUAL Scale in fitness centres - Charles Schmidt
- An Investigation into New Zealand local government recreation policies and goals: prior to and after local government reform - Martin Wrigley and Louisa Philp
- How should we deliver recreation and leisure services? Three typologies based on practitioner opinions - John Yardley and George Nogradi

Ageing and leisure

- 'The adventurers': adventure-based recreation for older adults - Pam Riordan and K. James

Outdoor recreation, parks and open space

- Factors affecting the implementation of local government open space and recreation plan: the Redlands, a case study - Pam Armstrong
- Customer satisfaction monitoring: a low- cost option - Neville Byrne
- Understanding the market for outdoor recreation - Paul F.J. Eagles
- Thrills, chills or spills? Leadership and safety in the outdoors - Cathye Haddock
- On the Western Line: the construction and communications of Central Queensland's cultural identity through tourism monuments and icons - Elizabeth Huf
- Outdoor recreation in rural New South Wales: constraints, opportunities and policy development - J.M. Jenkins
- Trainee skydiving: the importance of motivations to safety - Neil Lipscombe
- Resource values and decision-making: the lessons from Paparoa National Park - Bruce Rendall
- Planning for life after death - Martin Wrigley and Helen Lloyd

Professionalism, employment and volunteers

- The attitudes and lobbying behaviour of members of professional associations - Christopher Auld & Barry Bell
- Diversional therapy: employment opportunities - Joyce Cribb

- Organisational commitment: the retention of volunteers in sport - Graham Cuskelly
- Employment characteristics in the Australian leisure industry - Tracy Taylor and Paul Jonson

Public policy, research and practice

- Tourism policy in federal systems: comparisons between Australia and Canada - C. Michael Hall & John M. Jenkins
- Physical activity for health - new guidelines and consequences for programmers - Jenny Ross

Events

- Urban Imaging strategies and hallmark events: an examination of the Sydney 2000 Olympics and the Melbourne Formula One Grand Prix - C. Michael Hall
- The legacy of Lillehammer - Norman McIntyre

Papers presented but not included in the published proceedings

Leisure patterns

- The Social characteristics of leisure: visiting friends and relatives - Chris Wainwright

Outdoor recreation patterns

- Educational tourism and authenticity: perception as reality - Jillian Litster

Women and leisure

- 'Ephemeral leisure': the leisure experience you are having when you are not having a leisure experience - Beverley Simmons

Leisure and tourism research/methods

- What's the story? The use of storytelling in research - Jim Denison
- Photography: students' discovery of a lived experience - Beverley Simmons

Cultural perspectives of tourism, leisure, sport and the arts

- Waving the flag: athlete Cathy Freeman's politicised identity - Lee-Anne Hall
- Beyond pleasure: the extra weight of culture in leisure within Aboriginal Communities - Rob Lynch
- 'To Have a go or not?': nostalgia in the South Pacific - Pirkko Markula
- The education of Maori in tourism - Helen McGregor

- Assessing and managing the socio-cultural impacts of ecotourism: revisiting the Santa Elena Rainforest Project - Stephen Wearing and Libby Larson

Historical perspectives on leisure, tourism and sport

- The Erskine House pigsty was a disgrace: the development of lorne in the late - nineteenth and early twentieth centuries - Lesley Abell

Leisure, work and families

- Dual-career families and leisure: a report on research in progress - Harvey Perkins and Bob Gidlow

Curriculum

- Applicability of the NAPE/NASSM standards in a New Zealand context - Robert Sparks

Electronic networks

- Using the Leisurenet connection: introduction and special features - Denis Coleman
- Developing the Leisurenet connection: a workshop - Denis Coleman

Leisure practice

- Immoral bodies, immoral recreation? The case of Reef Beach, Sydney - Douglas Booth
- Connecting the Academic With the Economic - John Horobin
- 'Enjoyment' is worth $5,000.' - Paul L Jonson
- Planning for community facilities - developing a tool for decision-making - Erica Law
- Benefits as a planning tool - Rick Mansell
- An importance-performance approach to evaluating internal customer satisfaction - Edouard V. Novatorov
- The play repertoire and playfulness of abused children - Chris Wainwright

Ageing and Leisure

- Community involvement among elders: a leisure challenge - Leon Earle and Tony Earle
- Starting on Monday: a challenge for the ageing sedentary adult - Bevan C. Grant

Outdoor recreation, parks, and open spaces

- Bold new directions? Strategic planning for visitor use of New Zealand's park system - Neville C Jones

Public policy, research and practice

- Recreation and tourism research in action - Kay Booth
- Whatever happened to 'recreation'? The Sport, Fitness and Leisure Amendment Act 1992. - Bob Gidlow, Harvey Perkins and Grant Cushman
- Practitioner-academic interaction - Rick Mansell
- From theory to strategy: the application of leisure forecasting models and the recreation benefit index to local authority recreation strategy development - Michael Volkerling